Must Know Information

As a new hire, if you do not take action, you will automatically be enrolled with the default coverage that includes all Core Benefits, and the Employee Only Blue Shield $2,000 HDHP, Delta Dental and 44-day Short-Term Disability (STD).

If you have coverage elsewhere and wish to decline medical, you have that option. However, you must take action to select “waive medical.”

During open enrollment, if you are currently declining medical and do not change your election, you will remain with the waived medical option.

You may not waive dental or vision coverage. You do have three dental plans to choose from.

You must submit verification for all dependents added to your plan. You do not need to resubmit verification for dependents currently enrolled. If you do not submit verification within 60 days, your dependents will not be added to your plan.

If you wish to enroll with a Flexible Spending Account (FSA) – either the Healthcare FSA or the Dependent Care FSA – the IRS requires that you take action to enroll. If you were previously enrolled, you must re-elect to continue participation.

Following New Hire Enrollment or Open Enrollment, you may not change benefits until the next plan year unless you experience a qualifying life event (QLE).

ENROLLMENT OPPORTUNITIES

When Can I Enroll?

Current Employees

2024–25 Open Enrollment will begin on Thursday, May 9, 2024 and will end on Friday, May 31, 2024. Changes cannot be made outside of this window unless you experience a qualifying life event.

HOW DO I ENROLL?

All enrollment is done online at RetaTrust.org

The enrollment site is available 24/7 during your New Hire Enrollment Window and the Open Enrollment period. Select the “Enroll” button and follow the step-by-step process. Make sure to review and confirm your elections and then print and/or save your Benefits Statement. You may go back and make changes as many times as you'd like during the enrollment windows.

REMEMBER! Outside of New Hire Enrollment or Open Enrollment, you will not be allowed to make changes to your benefits selection unless you experience a qualifying life event (QLE).

What is a Qualifying Life Event (QLE)? How do I Change My Benefits?

A qualifying life event (QLE) is a major life event that allows you to make changes to your benefits outside of Open Enrollment. You have 30 days from the date of the event to complete your “Life Event Change” request through RetaTrust.org.

Examples of QLE's include:

- Marriage
- New Dependent (birth, adoption, placement for adoption)
- Gain or Loss of Other Coverage
- Election to terminate plan during spouse's Open Enrollment
- Medicare, Medicaid, or CHIP coverage change
- Divorce, Annulment
- Deceased Spouse
- Child Reaching Age 26 (Covered through the end of month in which they turn 26)

When adding dependents due to a QLE, you must submit verification. Please note that not all plans may change with a QLE and that the above list is not conclusive.

FSA Claims

Employees enrolled with the Healthcare FSA are able to take advantage of the $550 carryover option, if needed. This means you can carryover up to $550 into the subsequent year.

For the 7/1/2024–6/30/2025 plan year, participants have until 6/30/2025 to incur claims and until 9/30/2025 to submit claims. Note: if you separate employment, you can only use your FSA funds for claims incurred through the month in which your benefits end but would still have until 9/30/2025 to submit claims.

IMPORTANT NOTE!

FSAs are a use-it-or-lose-it rule as defined by the IRS. If you do not use the funds, you lose them.

With an FSA, you can set aside pre-tax dollars to pay for qualified medical expenses.

The IRS sets annual limits for both the healthcare and dependent care FSAs. If you are married, be sure to coordinate with your spouse to ensure you do not exceed the family maximum.

Flexible Spending Accounts

Flexible Spending Accounts (FSAs) allow you to set aside pre-tax dollars (not subject to federal income or Social Security tax) from your paycheck to use for qualified expenses. The funds that you contribute are deducted from your earnings before taxes, lowering your taxable income. As such, regular contributions to an FSA can reduce your annual tax liability. Two types of FSAs are offered – a Healthcare FSA and a Dependent Care FSA.

Healthcare Flexible Spending Accounts (HFSA) allows you to set aside a portion of your salary, before-tax, to reimburse certain amounts expended for healthcare. Annual contribution may not exceed $3,200.

What expenses can I submit for reimbursement?

- Deductibles and co payments
- Prescription costs
- Health services, supplies, or expenses not covered by your insurance
- Dental and vision expenses
- Certain over-the-counter drugs and medicine (note: supplements and vitamins are not considered over-the-counter drugs unless there is a medical need documented by a physician.)
- Verified dependents costs for the above reasons
- For a list of qualified expenses, refer to Publication 502 at irs.gov.

How much can I put in my HFSA?

Up to $3,200, which is $266.66 per monthly paycheck.

Dependent Care Flexible Spending Accounts (DCFSA)

Allows you to set aside a portion of your salary, before-tax to reimburse certain amounts spent for eligible dependent care expenses. Under federal tax law, maximum annual contribution may be up to $5,000 ($2,500 maximum if you are married and filing separate income tax returns).

Dental

Please note that Willamette and Kaiser are Exclusive Provider Networks (EPO), and Reta Delta Dental is a Preferred Provider Network (PPO).

Vision

VSP provides routine vision care benefits for all eligible employees and dependents. While vision benefits are automatic with your dental coverage, VSP is entirely separate from your dental plan. You will be automatically enrolled in vision as it is bundled with your dental coverage.

INSURANCE TERM GLOSSARY

Accidental Death & Dismemberment (AD&D): a policy that pays benefits if the cause of death/injury is an accident. Benefit amounts vary based on qualifying injury and plan.

Benefit: the healthcare item(s) or service(s) covered under a health insurance plan.

Coordination of Benefits (COB): a process to figure out which insurance plan pays first when 2 or more health insurance plans are responsible for paying the same medical claim. If you have double coverage, you will need to file a Coordination of Benefits with both plans.

Coinsurance: the percentage of costs of a covered healthcare service you pay after you've paid your deductible.

Co payment (copays): a fixed amount you pay for a covered service before receiving the service.

Covered Services: services, drugs, supplies, and equipment that are covered under a healthcare plan.

Deductible: the amount you pay for healthcare services before your insurance starts to pay. Deductibles reset on a calendar year basis.

Exclusive Provider Organization (EPO): a health insurance plan where providers must be seen within a predetermined network. Out-of-network care is not covered. Kaiser and Willamette are EPO plans.

- DEPO: EPO with a deductible

Explanation of Benefits (EOB): a statement by a health insurance company explaining what they paid when services were sought.

Evidence of Insurability (EOI): a process in which you provide information regarding your health or your dependent's health in order to be considered for certain amounts of coverage. Also known as a Statement of Health.

Flexible Spending Account (FSA): an account where you can set aside pre-tax dollars to pay for qualified expenses. The annual limits are determined by the IRS.

- Healthcare Flexible Spending Account (HFSA): allows you to set aside a portion of your salary, before-tax, to reimburse certain healthcare expenses.
- Dependent Care Flexible Spending Account (DCFSA): allows you to set aside a portion of your salary, before tax, to reimburse eligible dependent care expenses.

In-Network Providers/Services: providers who are a part of a network set up by the health plan, with which it has negotiated a discount. Services completed by in-network providers usually cost less because the services are provided to the insurance company at a lower cost.

Lifetime Maximum: a cap on the total lifetime benefits you may get from the insurance company. Once this limit is reached the insurance plan will no longer pay for services that were previously covered. This cap could be set in a dollar limit (for example, $1 million lifetime cap) or on specific benefits (for example, a $200,000 cap on organ transplants, or one gastric bypass per lifetime) or a combination of the two.

Out-of-Network Providers/Services: providers who do not participate in an insurer's provider network. Since the insurance company has not negotiated a contract with these providers, the services they complete may be only partially covered or not covered at all.

Out-of-Pocket Maximum: the most you will have to pay for covered services in a year. Once you reach the maximum the insurance company will pay 100% of the cost of covered benefits. This does not include monthly premiums or non-covered services.

Open Enrollment: annual period during which employees can make changes to their benefits.

Preferred Provider Organization (PPO) Plans: a type of plan that contracts with medical providers to create a network of participating providers. Providers outside of the network will have additional costs if used. Blue Shield and Delta Dental are Preferred Provider Organizations.

Prescription Drug Tiers:

- Generic Drugs: a drug sold by a company, other than the brand name one, under a different name but still has the same ingredients as the brand name drug.
- Preferred Brand (formulary): brand-name drugs for which generic equivalents are not available. Insurance companies have a list of these drugs that they prefer because they are safe and effective alternatives to more expensive brands.
- Non-Preferred Brand (non-formulary): brand-name drugs that are higher priced than preferred drugs. These drugs are not on the insurance plan's list.
- Specialty Drugs: medications used to treat complex, chronic conditions (such as cancer, multiple sclerosis, or rheumatoid arthritis) that usually come at a high cost.

Provider: health professionals and/or organizations who provide healthcare services. Some examples are hospitals, nurse practitioners, chiropractors, physical therapists, and of course physicians.

Qualifying Life Event (QLE): a defined change in your situation that makes you eligible for a special or additional enrollment period. A few examples of Qualifying Life Events are getting married, having children, or losing healthcare coverage.
